THROWN UNDER WHEELS OF TRAIN

Richard Carroll and Edward Spittal Seriously Injured at Green Street Crossing when Horse Became Frightened and Threw Them in Path of Coal Train.

Private Richard Carroll and Private Edward Spittal of the guard at the marine barracks at the navy yard, were seriously injured at the Green street railroad crossing shortly before five o'clock on Monday afternoon. Carroll lost his right arm and had a broken ankle, and Spittal has a compound fracture of the right thigh and may lose a leg.

Spittal, who is the regular driver of the barracks baggage wagon, had had followed the Dover train in and had started from the main line to back down to the coal wharves.

The horse in the wagon had become excited through meeting the workmen's train on the Portsmouth bridge and had to be held while it passed, so that when he saw the train of coal cars he broke and got out of control of the driver.

At the crossing the horse made a sudden plunge to the right to escape the cars, and in doing so both Carroll and Spittal were thrown out and landed directly on the crossing in the path of the cars, and before they could escape the first car had passed over them.

Engineer Sinclair did not see the horse until it plunged across the track and he acted promptly and pulled his train down to a standstill. Both of the unfortunate men were found between the first and second cars, the first car having passed over them.

They were promptly lifted from the track by the train crew and gatetender Ellsworth Pierce and taken to the gatetender's shanty and a telephone message sent for Dr. J. J. Berry and the ambulance. The ambulance made two trips and the men were rushed to the Cottage hospital with all possible speed.

The horse in his wild dash succeeded in clearing the cars and was as far as Maplewood avenue before he was captured. Neither the horse

BAD CHECKS

On Local Banks Offered by a Stranger Here

Police Officer Ducker arrested a slick gent today, who is charged with working bad bank checks.

The checks were on two of the local banks, both for the amount of $10.00 made out to Harry T. Harmon, and each signed J. Morton Farrington.

On Monday Clerk Griffin at the Kearsarge received a telephone message purporting to be from Mr. Parks at the Sparhawk Inn, asking if Mr. Harmon had arrived. The man at the other end of the wire said his automobile had broken down.

Later a telegram arrived for Mr. Harmon and was followed by Mr. Harmon himself.

During the afternoon and evening there were numerous telephone calls for Mr. Harmon or Mr. Pike, all of them coming at times when Mr. Harmon was out. Mr. Griffin believes that all those telephone and telegraph messages were all "phony."

At nine o'clock in the evening the stranger presented a ten dollar check in payment of a bill for $2.50 and "Trek Griffin, with an eye for quick visitors, was on to the check in short order. He was wise enough, however, not to explode right away, but did a little sleuth work.

He did not honor the check, but coaxed the gent along by lending him a dollar.

This morning he put it up to the bank and learned that the check was bad.

Meanwhile Harmon had gone out and a telephone message from "Mr. Parks" had come to tell him to be at Woods' garage at nine o'clock. Mr. Griffin called up the garage and found that the parties were not known there.

A little while later, Mr. Griffin happened to see Harmon walking on the street and he called Officer Ducker, who quietly made the arrest, and the stranger was quickly behind the bars.

A complaint also reached the police from Walter Lynsky, proprietor of a Vaughan street restaurant, where he presented the worthless check in the same form as the one that had been flushed at the Kearsarge.

When the police got him and his pockets were searched three more checks were found on his person. One check had been endorsed with the name of Clerk Griffin as well as that of Harmon on the back.

He declined to say much about himself any more than his name was Harry T. Harmon and he belongs in Millinocket, Me.

He claimed to be a civil engineer and said that he worked for Mr. Parks, the same engineer who was connected with the construction of the paper mill in this city.

The police are convinced that he is no new man at the business.

MAJOR FRANK D. WEBSTER

Retired Marine Officer from This City is Dead in France

A despatch from Paris Oct. 31, announces the death at that date of Maj. Frank D. Webster, U. S. marine corps, retired.

Maj. Webster is a native of Portsmouth, the brother of Mrs. Frederick D. Moses. Upon leaving school he entered the office of the Portsmouth Journal and continued there several years as an apprentice, until the Civil war broke, when he obtained a commission in the marine corps and entered the service in June, 1869, or thereabouts.

For quite a number of years he has been on sick leave on account of heart trouble or some organic ailment, and has made his home in Paris, here he has resided with his wife and daughter, who survive him.

He has devoted his attention largely to correspondence with the New York Herald and its Paris edition, being a good authority, especially upon naval and military matters. He made occasional visits to Portsmouth, where he was known as a soldier by his manly form and military bearing.

HITCHCOCK VOTES

Travels from New Orleans to Massachusetts

Washington, Nov. 2.—Postmaster General Hitchcock arrived in Washington suddenly Monday afternoon and left in the evening for Boston. He was going to his home at Newton to vote. He came all the way from New Orleans for that purpose.

The postmaster general was not in Washington long enough to take up any of the important matters that have been awaiting his attention for several weeks. He said he had no news about politics or about the department. Ask about his trip with the president, Mr. Hitchcock said.

"The president's tour is a great success. Mr. Taft is making a splendid impression wherever he goes. His popularity is great throughout the east, west, north and south."

Upon Mr. Hitchcock's return from Boston he will take up a number of important matters. Among these is the appointment of a successor to F. E. McMillan of Boston, ex-chief postal inspector.

The postmaster general said that he had a man selected for this place, but was not yet ready to announce his appointment. Mr. Hitchcock will also be called upon to appoint a new postmaster in Washington. He says that he favors a local man for the place.

Postmaster General Hitchcock will shortly begin work on his annual report. It is said that he will make a number of important recommendations to carry out reforms and improvements in various branches of the postal service.

Mr. Hitchcock while here ordered the issuance of a twelve cent stamp to cover the ordinary letter postage and the new registration fee of ten cents.

or wagon or the contents were in the least damaged.

At the cottage hospital an examination by Dr. Berry, who was assisted by Drs. Taylor and Walker, revealed the fact that Carroll's right arm was horribly crushed above the elbow, and it was found necessary to amputate it. His right ankle was badly injured, having a compound fracture, and while it is in a bad condition, he will not lose the foot.

Spirit had a compound fracture of the right thigh and it was badly cut, as though the wheel of the coal car had passed over it. This is in a bad condition, but the attendant physicians are in hopes that they can save the leg.

Both men lost considerable blood and were in a very weak condition when taken to the hospital, but they recovered from the operations very well.

There is some question as to just how the accident happened, whether the men jumped when they saw the train scolding down on them. The railroad men say that the men jumped, but both Spittall and Carroll when giving an account of the accident, stated that they were thrown from the wagon.

Gateman Ellsworth Pierce saw the wagon approaching, and he, according to his story, tried to warn them of the approaching train, and that the men were aware of the fact but were unable to control the thoroughly frightened horse.

Carroll has but six months more to serve on this indictment. Both are best class men and popular with the officers and men at the barracks.

At the hospital today, Mr. Carroll and Mr. Spittall are both getting along well, and there are no unfavorable developments.

CALLED A MINISTER

Concord, Nov. 2.—The prudent committee of the Unitarian church met on Monday night to decide upon a successor to the Rev. Louis H. Buckhorn, who resigned several months ago, and by a unanimous vote decided to extend a call to Rev. Sidney K. Snow of Palo Alto, Cal. Mr. Snow is a New Englander by birth, and was graduated at Harvard and studied for the ministry at the Harvard Divinity school.

He is about 35 years of age, married and has a family. It is believed the call will be accepted.

"The Thief," which shows at Music Hall on Wednesday evening, is one of the best attractions that has ever played here. It made a great hit with everybody last season.

Theatrical Topics of the Day.

Wednesday Night's Great Play Love, like opportunity, is an angel that comes but once, and when it comes, it ought to be prized and cherished above everything else on earth. Not all the riches of the world can buy it or keep it, and when once it has gone it will never return. All the domestic tragedies with which society abound ensue from woman's vanity and man's complaisant conceit—the love of admiration on the one hand and the pride of conquest on the other. These truths are said to be forcefully demonstrated in the famous Theatre in Paris, in December, 1907. "The Thief" made an immediate sensation. It ran through the entire season with r. Gully and Maud LeBarry in the chief roles. After the follies, the ambition, the cunning, the love as deep as human passion and as wide as human frailty of a woman, "The Thief" is a woman's play. But side by side with the great lesson it contains for every wife, it contains rich food for thought for every husband. It is the most stirring, human dramatic document put on the stage in years.

No play put on in the last twenty-five years has created the stir and play "The Thief," which Charles Frohman is to present with a special company at Music Hall on Wednesday evening.

"The Thief" is from the pen of Henry Bernstein, one of the most ingenious and successful on contemporary playwrights. Mr. Bernstein is widely known for other plays similar in construction, in ingenuity and composition to "The Thief," but it is probable that for many a year to come he will be known in this country, as he still is in France, as the author of "The Thief."

"The Thief" is in three acts. It observes all the unities of time, place and incident. The action takes place within twenty-four hours. First produced at the Renaissance received such general approbation as this great French play "The Thief," now coming here.

"The Candy Shop" Coming.

The Boston Post acclaiming "The Candy Shop," the new Charles Dillingham musical gaiety now closing an all fall stay at the Tremont theatre, Boston, "the gayest musical comedy attraction ever played under the Charles Dillingham banner. It contains a list of big names seldom found in such profusion in any single production."

"The Candy Shop," with its original one hundred funsters, including Rock and Pullen and Frank Lalor, is announced for a single performance at the Portsmouth, N. H., Inter in this month.

DOVER DOINGS

Dover, Nov. 2.—The city opera house has been a busy place and a large crew of men and women has been at work all day in preparing the booths and decorations for the St. Mary's parish fair which will be held there during the remainder of the week, beginning tonight. The decorations will be most elaborate and the booths will be made most attractive. After a parade, in which all the local and out of town Catholic societies will participate, the fair will be officially opened by John Kivel. An excellent programme has been prepared for the opening night, and the fair is an assured success.

At the regular meeting of the city council Thursday night it is understood that there is much business of importance to come. Included is a proposed plan to vest the power of the board of health in one man, instead of three, as heretofore. The board at the present time consists of the city physician, the city marshal, and one man who is termed the health officer, and who receives a salary of $500. The new plan would unite the office of city physician and health officer, and one man would look after it all and receive both salaries, or whatever compensation that the city council fix.

Dover high won another game from Sanborn seminary at Kingsdon Saturday by the substantial score of 17 to 0, which makes about the fifth consecutive game which the local boys have held onto. Coach Thomas Pearle is doing good work.

Manchester, Nov. 2.—A general committee consisting of six members from the four subordinate granges, Patrons of Husbandry, of the city and the board of trade, making a committee of 30, last night made arrangements for the reception of the state grange during the four days' session in Manchester in December. The committee elected Harry W. Spaulding of Amoskeag grange chairman, Charles C. Hayes of the board of trade treasurer and Fred T. Dunlap of the board of trade secretary.

This committee will arrange for more than 1000 members who are expected to attend the convention.

THE GOVERNOR'S SHIRT

Virginia Laundry Would Buy It to Put on Exhibition

Concord, Nov. 2.—Governor Quinn's daily mail contains all sorts of queer suggestions, complaints and requests, but the following comes pretty near establishing a record: Richmond, Va., Oct. 30, 1909: His Excellency, Hon. Henry B. Quinn, Concord, N. H.

Dear Sir:—

The National Association of Laundrymen of America will be held in Richmond, Virginia, October, 1910.

It is our desire to give them a most interesting exhibit, and the shirts of the public and prominent men of the day will form a most interesting group.

In order to make the exhibit complete, we most respectfully ask of you to express to us C. O. D. for its full value, a shirt actually having been worn by you.

By complying as early as convenient to the above request, you will greatly oblige.

Yours truly,

Royal Laundry.

Now Hampshire can not be too quick in starting work on her state roads. In these days they are a big asset.

UNITED IN PRIDE AND PATRIOTISM

Taft Has Thus Found All People During His Tour

HE SEES NO DISCONTENT

Spends Sixteen Hours in Capital of Mississippi. Where Presidential Procession Is in Competition With Circus Parade—Wets and Dries Chest Over Serving of Wine at Banquet in Honor of Chief Executive Jackson, Miss., Nov. 2.—With New Orleans behind him, President Taft is on the last leg of his long journey. He has nine days more in southern states, but he already has seen enough of the south to enable him to say that his two months' study of conditions throughout the country is practically finished. The impressions that he has gathered from the trip were summarized by him in a speech here at the fair grounds. Said he:

"I have gone from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean, down the Pacific coast to the southwest corner of the country, through territories and the great domain of Texas to St. Louis, down the Mississippi to New Orleans, and I have made, the Lord forgive me and the Lord help those who have heard me, two hundred odd speeches and I have survived the hearing of two hundred more, and I am able to say that we never in all our country's history were as homogeneous a people, as closely allied in all our hopes and ambitions, and in all our pride of country and patriotism as we are today.

"It is possible that there are corners in this country that have escaped me where there is discontent, but if so, I have not found them. In every town, in every city and county, in every state, I have found the individual saying to himself: 'I am contented here because I know what will make this city, or this town, or this county the best in the state, and I am going to do that very thing.'

"And in respect to the ambitions of the people it was the same—everyone proud to be a citizen of the town or the county or the state, and all proud to be Americans and to rejoice and thank God that the starry flag waves over us, a united country."

The president spent sixteen hours in this city, more time than he gave to Chicago or San Francisco. Here in Jackson they say that Taft is the first president who ever discovered that the city is on the map. Everybody seemed to have in mind the words of Mississippi's famous Lamar: "If we knew each other better we would love each other more."

In carrying out this Taft celebration Jackson had a good many things to contend against. There was a state fair, a circus, a balloon ascension and a parachute drop. The circus and the balloon ascension alone would have discouraged the ordinary city, but Jackson managed to keep their circus parade and the Taft show separate.

The president's program included, besides a visit to the state fair, a luncheon at the governor's home, an automobile sight-seeing trip and a dinner last evening. The dinner had caused considerable of a fuss between the wets and the dries in the city. The dries were opposed to having wine served and they carried the matter into the pulpits of some of the churches.

The wets, however, refused to give in, and then the temperance people threatened to get out an injunction restraining the wets from using wine at the banquet. The wine drinkers carried the day, by going to New Orleans and buying their supply in Louisiana.
Now the teetotalers say they will carry the question to the Taft banquet to the polls.

Mississippi is a dry state. The president himself does not drink wine or anything else stronger than coffee, so that the Jackson people were running a rumpus on their own account.

RICHARDSON IS CONVICTED

Jury Quickly Reaches Decision in Case of Crooked Bank Cashier

Pittsburg, Nov. 2.—After being out less than an hour, a United States jury returned a verdict of guilty against David Richardson, former cashier of the failed Cosmopolitan National bank of Pittsburg, which failed fifteen months ago for $1,500,000.

Richardson had been tried for falsifying bank books, making false returns to the comptroller of the currency, etc.

The aggregate sentence of Richardson can be 240 years in prison, with fines aggregating $24,000.

Predicts a Cold Winter

Harwich, Mass., Nov. 2.—Anthony F. Sandison, a retired sea captain, and known far and wide as the weather prophet of Cape Cod, predicts that the coming winter will be the severest for many years. He states that there will be much snow.

CHARGED WITH KIDNAPPING

Ambitious Woman Wanted Rich Child For Her Daughter-in-Law

Atlanta, Nov. 2.—Accused of kidnapping the 14-year-old daughter of C. D. Barron, a well-to-do business man of Atlanta, as a bride for her 18-year-old son, Mrs. F. C. Lambert was arrested and held in heavy bail.

Mrs. Lambert's arrest is a sequel to a divorce suit filed by Mrs. Lucy Lambert, who alleges that she was kidnapped by Mrs. Lambert and forced to marry the latter's son.

Lambert and his mother lived near the Barrons and the former became infatuated with Miss Barron. When Barron learned of the matter he ordered Lambert to keep away from his daughter. It is alleged that Mrs.
Lambert won the girl's confidence and extorted the virtues of her son, telling her what a fine husband he would make, that he would never tell her a story and that she would never regret marriage.

Finally, it is alleged, Mrs. Lambert enticed the girl to a place where her son was in waiting and had them married by a magistrate. The Bar-rons allege that Mrs. Lambert wanted to get a rich bride for her son, as she knew Miss Barron was an only child.

Mrs. Lambert is charged with kidnaping a child under 18 years old away from its parents or guardians, which under the law is declared to be kidnaping.

A BAN ON ATHLETICS

Even Baseball and Basketball Tabooed by Medico Chi College

Philadelphia, Nov. 2.—Three deaths on college football fields Saturday have aroused foes of the game, and at a mass meeting of students of the Medico Chi college, because of the death of Michael Burke, whose skull was fractured while playing for Medico Chi against the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, it was voted to do away with athletics altogether.

Not only football, but baseball and basketball will be done away with, and nothing was suggested in the way of athletics to take their place. Jefferson Medical college, the greatest athletic rival of Medico Chi, has no football team this year.

SOCIALISTS AND LABORITES LOSE

Principal Feature of Municipal Elections in England

London, Nov. 2.—Municipal elections were held throughout England Monday. So far as can be judged they are not likely to furnish any indication of the country's attitude towards the two great political parties, politics having ceased in recent years to have a dominating influence in municipal affairs.

On the other hand, Socialism has become one of the crucial questions in such contests, and the most noteworthy feature in Monday's contests was the defeat of Socialist and Laborite candidates, which, in many places, was overwhelming, even where there is a large working class population.

In some places Socialists held their own, but in such important electorates as Liverpool, Coventry, Huddersfield, Preston, Rochdale, Macclesfield and Bradford, they were defeated.

INFLUENCE OF TYPALDOS

May Result in Keeping Him Out of Hands of Greek Government

Athens, Nov. 2.—Everything here is outwardly quiet. There is little indication of what the final settlement of the political trouble will be. The government is making a diligent show of hunting for Lieutenant TYPALDOS, leader of the naval revolt, but many persons believe that he is actually in Athens and that the government is fully aware of his hiding place.

TYPALDOS and some other mutineers belong to exalted and influential families, and there are many reasons why it is undesirable to arrest him just now.

Aeroplane Falls to Earth

Hamburg, Nov. 2.—At the aviation meeting here the gasoline tank of the aeroplane of Pequet, a Frenchman, exploded. The wings of the machine caught fire and the aeroplane fluttered towards earth. When it was eighteen feet from the ground Pequet jumped from it. He was stunned, but soon recovered.

International Menu For Cannibals

Munich, Nov. 2.—Rear Admiral Seebree reports that several Admiralty islands' cannibals captured a boat containing three Englishmen and three Chinese. One of the Englishmen, who escaped through the compliance of a friendly tribe, said that his companions had been killed and eaten.

Charged With Padding Pay Rolls

Somerville, Mass., Nov. 2.—William W. Smith, Jr., a foreman in the street department of Somerville, was arrested last night at his home on a charge of larceny of $48 from the city by means of padding the pay rolls.
The complaint against him was made at the request of Mayor Woods.

GOVERNORS IN THREE STATES

Elections In All Others Are of Minor Officers

CLAIMS IN BAY STATE

Republicans Say Their Entire Ticket Will Win, While Democrats Are Unusually Optimistic—Unbiased Political Observers Predict Great Falling Off in Usual Republican Majority—Last Year's Candidates Again Head Rhode Island Ticket—Great Interest in Contest in New York City

Managers of the Republican party say for publication that the entire Republican state ticket will win, and that the usual number of Republican legislators will be returned to the state house.

The Democratic managers seem unusually optimistic. They are unusually optimistic. The campaign on the Republican side was short. It was confined to two weeks. The Democratic campaign had been under way for a much longer period, with rallies and meetings and conferences before their opponents took an active part in the fight.

Confidential advisers from some of the principal managers of the Draper-Frothingham campaign are to the effect that there will be a big falling off in the Republican vote. The most hopeful do not expect more than a plurality of 30,000 for the Republican ticket, and it would not be a big surprise to many if there should be a repetition of the 1904 upheaval, when William L. Douglas, Democrat, defeated Governor Bates for re-election.

Officials of the Democratic state committee are so enthusiastic that they believe Vahey and Foss are going to be the winners. Openly they predict a margin of 20,000. Privately they say they do not really expect more than 7000 or 8000.

Next in importance to the state fight is that of the district attorney of Suffolk county. All the indications point to a close contest at the polls. Whichever side wins, it is not believed that the margin of victory will be over 5000 or 6000.

The Republican state committee in this campaign absolutely abandoned that section of the state lying west of the Connecticut river. The machine officials have been taken to task sharply for doing so. There has been a great deal of Republican discontent in Worcester county, and but little effort has been made to better conditions there.

Shrewd, unbiased political observers look to see a greatly reduced vote for the Republican state ticket.
They base their calculations upon the fact that this is an off year, and that Republican apathy is to be expected the year following the national election.

In the closing hours of the campaign the liquor question unexpectedly made its appearance through the charges of Chairman MacLeod of the Democratic state committee that the brewers were trying to defeat Vahey, whose record, they said, was unsatisfactory.

Whole Police Force Under Arrest

Gary, Ind., Nov. 2.—The entire police force was arrested last night, and troops were ordered by Governor Marshall to be in readiness to move on the town at a moment's notice in anticipation of election riots today. Two hundred deputies were sworn in by Sheriff Grant on Marshall's order and made the arrests of the police as their first official action.

PEARY IS ENDORSED

Geographical Society Believes That He Set Foot on World's Top

Washington, Nov. 2.—A report declaring that Commander Peary has substantiated his claim to having reached the North Pole April 9, 1909, will be given to the public about the last of the week, hearing the endorsement of the board of managers of the National Geographical society. Soon thereafter Peary probably will go on the lecture platform.

That the National Geographical society, after proper investigation, is satisfied that Peary reached the Pole was indicated by a member of the organization, who said: "We will invite him to address us here this month.
That ought to satisfy you as to what we think of Peary's exploit in the polar regions."

Few Strikers Return

Ludlow, Mass., Nov. 2.—The efforts on the part of the Ludlow Manufacturing Associates to reopen their mills, which have been closed for a week by a strike of operatives, were not successful. Of the more than 2800 operatives who struck last week, only 300 reported at the mills.

Italian Killed by Dirigible

Rome, Nov. 2.—As the dirigible balloon One Bhs was making a landing here Pietro Rovelli, in keeping the crowd back, stepped too near the whirling propeller of the dirigible, and was instantly killed, half of his head being torn away.

Flee From Flooded Mine

Cardiff, Nov. 2.—Three hundred men were trapped in the flooded Trenant coal mine at Ystalyfera. Three of them were drowned before the rescued with great difficulty through an abandoned bore.

MRS. STETSON IS SUBMISSIVE

Will Not Secede From the Christian Science Church

CHARGES ARE MADE PUBLIC

She Is Said to Have Given Representation of the Last Supper in Her Home, Declaring Herself the Christ—Lemonade in Lieu of Wine —Other Allegations Which Have Hitherto Been Kept Secret

New York, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, in a letter given out by her late last night, announced her complete submission to the Boston officials of the Christian Science movement, and denied she intended to secede from the Christian Science church.

While Mrs. Stetson was preparing this statement her opponents in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, made public data they had gathered concerning her alleged teachings and practices.

The letter in which Mrs. Stetson announces her submission to the authorities who have placed her and twenty-six of her practitioners under discipline is expected to have great effect at a meeting of the members of the First Church to be held Thursday to receive a report from the trustees, who have been investigating.

That Mrs. Stetson gathered twenty-six practitioners about a long, narrow table at her home in West Ninety-Sixth street, adjoining the First Church of Christ, Scientist, and with them gave a representation of the "last supper," during which she declared, "I am Augusta Stetson, the Christ," is one of many charges that was to have been brought forward against her at a meeting of the members of the First Church Thursday.

Witnesses in the investigation of Mrs. Stetson's teachings made by the directors of the mother church of Christian Science in Boston have testified that at the alleged ceremony she broke bread, gave it to each practitioner with a bit of fish and a glass of lemonade in lieu of wine and told all of them that they were the same mental condition as the disciples of Christ when they sat down to the "last supper."

Revelations made yesterday concerning the nature of evidence that has been obtained in the controversy between Mrs. Stetson and the Boston officials contained a full description of the "last supper" episode, said to have been called by Mrs. Stetson a "paschal feast." These disclosures include other facts which have hitherto been kept secret.

Fearing that Mrs. Stetson at the meeting Thursday might endeavor to lead her followers away from the influence of the Boston officials, their representatives were prepared to introduce testimony against her offered in Boston during the inquiry which resulted in the infliction of discipline on her and twenty-six of her practitioners.

The subject of "mental journeys" is another phase of the situation in the First Church concerning which the opponents of Mrs. Stetson hope to be able to offer testimony at the meeting.

Among the additional charges is one to the effect that Mrs. Stetson ordered her practitioners to set their alarm clocks for midnight each night, to arise at that hour and from the time they arose until 1 o'clock in the morning concentrate their minds on mental treatment led by her.

That Mrs. Stetson had declared
"Mrs. Eddy as God manifest and Mrs.
Stetson Christ manifest" is another allegation brought by those who accuse Mrs. Stetson of having strayed from the true principles of Christian Science.

TO GET A HUSBAND

Girl Steals Nearly $30,000 and Hands It Over to Relatives

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Miss Angelina Schiaivone, the 17-year-old daughter of Pasquale Schiaivone, a banker, appeared in court ready to tell on this witness stand a remarkable story she told the police in a confession that she had stolen nearly $30,000 from her father's bank to give to an uncle and seven other relatives.

She said in the confession she gave them the money because they promised to get her a husband. The case was set for the latter part of the week.

Paris, Nov. 2.—As a mark of its however, declined the honor. When White left Rome he declined the Grand Cross of St. Maurice and St. Lazarus offered by the king's own hand during

FIFTEEN DAYS' HARD WORK

Boston Y. M. C. A. More Than Realizes Hopes of Raising $500,000

Boston, Nov. 2.—The hour of 7 last evening saw the movable money hand of the big Y. M. C. A. clock creep slowly upward on the great dial that fronts the common, pointing out the accumulated thousands, and pauses for just an instant at the goal that meant the new structure for Boston—$500,000.

Thousands cheered as the hand pointed straight upward. Then the cheers were redoubled in volume as the upright pointer slowly started forth again down the face of the clock on the other side until it stopped close by the $15,000 mark.

It told the people gathered in the streets that the young men of Boston were to have a structure dedicated to their well-being and advancement, and that the campaign which had interested business men, congregations in churches, citizens in general and the public at large had been successfully terminated. The final statistics showed that the grand total had reached $514,377.

The vast sum for the new structure was raised in exactly fifteen days. It started on the evening of Oct. 14, when prominent citizens of Boston met and pledged themselves to the extent of $60,000.

The next day the dial of the great clock showed what kind of start had been made and from day to day since that time the money hand moved on and on about the dial setting forth the sums accumulated.

NAVY YARD FRAUDS

Four Officials and Five Merchants Are Placed on Trial at Kiel

Kiel, Nov. 2.—The trial of nine persons implicated in robberies from the navy yard has begun. The accused include four officials and five merchants, who are accused of receiving and disposing of plunder given away by the naval men. The thefts included wagonloads of new armor plating.

This case has aroused intense interest throughout Germany owing to the extent of the frauds and the high standing of some of the prisoners, and the amount involved is estimated at several million marks.

The most prominent of the merchants accused is a man named Heinrich, who is reputed to be a millionaire. About 200 witnesses have been called to testify in the case.

TRIO OF ROBBERS HUNTED BY POSSE

Determined to Effect Capture

"Dead or Alive"

Lincoln, N. H., Nov. 2.—Residents of Lincoln and Johnson are alarmed over robberies by three young men between the ages of 18 and 21 here and a posse headed by Sheriff Carey of Lincoln has started a search for the fugitives.

Early Monday morning they came into town, armed with revolvers and rifles, and after breaking into the Profile house, a summer hostelry, and robbing it of what money they could

LET US HAVE A FAIR

The Boston Sunday Herald devotes a whole illustrated page to telling of the value of the Brockton fair to Brockton.

First in those values it places the fact that the city is "advertised from one end of the country to the other."

Second, it places the trade that it brings to Brockton.

The shoe manufacturer and the heel or sole maker, the policeman and the politician, the groceryman and the butcher, the wholesaler and the retailer—everybody in the city finds time to thresh out the subject favorably or unfavorably, according to the extent of his information or the color of his prejudices.

It is not at all easy to begin consideration of the question with adequate or even satisfactory information, for very few people have gone to the trouble of gathering all possible facts bearing on the case. One section of Brockton, however, make up of those people who "do things to eat is pretty thoroughly agreed that the fair is a mighty fine thing for the city.

Ask the travelling man from a Brockton factory if he hears about the Brockton fair on his journeys through his district: "Sure thing," he will reply, "Why down in a little one-horse place in Kansas a man grasped and wrung my hand with fervor while he dilated on the glories of the Brockton fair that he attended last year. If he's a shoe man I'm pretty sure of a good order and you can bet there are others in town who have heard all about the Brockton fair from this man and know that the Brockton fair to win the place where they make good shoes."

This is the way it goes, and it is the result of thirty-four years of this kind of advertising, for the Brockton fair completed its thirty-fourth annual during the first week of October.

"The commercial benefit to the city as a result of the Brockton fair is unquestionable," said Treasurer Edward Thompson, who handles the finances of the Brockton Agricultural Society, the organization behind the festival week. "It may not be so apparent to the local tradesmen on the week of the fair itself. His financial interest as a result of the fair, comes during the two or three weeks preceding it when people are making their purchases in anticipation of the fair. Then there are the provision houses of the city which furnish all the foodstuffs during the four days of the fair when thousands of people are guests of the city and have to be fed. With an attendance of 157,000 people at the fair in four days, such as we recorded this year, an immense amount of foodstuffs is consumed, and all of this comes from local tradesmen, for everything is bought in the city. A more indirect, but nevertheless beneficial, result of the Brockton fair comes from the wide advertising that the city gets from it. We have people who come to the fair from all over the United States and there is no question in my mind but that this is a big thing for the city and for its leading industry, the manufacture of shoes. It keeps Brockton as a shoe-manufacturing city intimately before the people of the country."

"The Brockton fair and the Brockton shoe go hand in hand in advertising fame. The efforts of the Brockton board of trade in sending folders and information about the city all over the country is certainly a benefit to Brockton. No one can deny this. That is what it is done for. The Brockton fair with its immense advertising each year is also a distinct advantage in directing attention to Brockton and its leading industry."

"Our receipts from the fair each year aggregate from $80,000 to $90,000," said Treasurer Thompson. "Of this amount upward of $70,000 is expended by the management. A large part of the money is for premiums in the horse, cattle and poultry shows and in the purses and the racing and the firemen's muster. There is a good big sum paid during these four days for help and assistance about the grounds and in all the big departments of the fair which would not otherwise be possible."

The Brockton fair that has recently closed is one of the best illustrations of the great festival that has ever been offered. The attendance of the four days was 175,000 people. These people came into the city on trains of the N. Y. N. H. & H. railroad to the extent of 32,000, and by automobile and trolley and carriage, from all parts of the New England states and farther west. The N. Y. N. H. & H. railroad alone in its handling of the immense crowds employed about 30 special trains in addition to the regulars that run daily the 20 miles distance between Boston and Brockton and farther south.

The city of Rochester in this state receives a similar benefit from the farmers' annual fair.

A few facts like these go far toward making it plain why that this paper wants an annual fair in Portsmouth.

The opportunity must be grasped.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

New Hampshire's Opportunity Governor Quinby showed his usual foresightedness in respect to possible benefits to New Hampshire when he accepted the invitation to take the trip down the Mississippi with President Taft. Witness this quotation from the special correspondence of the New York Sun, describing the river journey:

"One the Steamboat St. Paul, where the twenty-five governors held forth, the deep waterways talk as long since given place to a discussion of the conservation of the nation's forests. The governors held a meeting today similar to the one that was held in Washington at the instance of President Roosevelt. Gifford Pinchot, chief forester, told them of the work of his bureau of co-operation between the states and the federal government in protecting the forests. If anybody had raised the cry, 'Fourteen feet through the Mississippi valley!' he would have been fired out of the meeting, yet they call this a deep waterways excursion."—Concord Monitor.

Mr. Cater went last July to a large stock farm at Brewster, N. Y., to which the former superintendent of the Stratford county farm had gone, he contracted malaria, which developed into typhoid fever and he was taken to the Danbury hospital.

Mr. Cater was 29 years old and was born in Barrington. He was educated at the Austin Cate academy, Stratford, Conn. academy, Northwood, the New Hampshire state college and the Dover business college. He was a member of Rochester grange, Humana lodge of Masons, Palestine company, Knights Templars and other Masonic bodies of this city. He leaves a wife and two children. The body will be brought here.

A TIMELY TOPIC

BY TERRENCE V. POWDERLY Department of Commerce and Labor

The Distinction

Between Tramp and "Bum"

A TRAMP is a man willing to work, but forced to go from place to place in search of it. A bum is a sot, a loafer and a drone who goes into hysteria at the mention of the word work. A hobo is an individual who goes on the theory that the world owes him a living and he is going to get it by hook or crook.

The honest workman need take no offense at the criticism of the tramp class. The hobo or bum never worked and never will. He is the fellow whose motto is, "The world owes me a living." The honest workman knows that the world doesn't owe him a living unless he earns it.

There is a big difference between the man who is out of a job and cannot find one and the man who never had a job and would not take one if he could get it. This latter is the sort of man that frightens the children in the parks. He's the man you would like to seize by the scruff of the neck and throw him out into the streets.

The solution of the unemployed problem in the big cities is in the transportation of men who want to work to places where men are wanted for work.

There is a crying demand for labor in this country. In the fields of the west and along the roads of the west there is a constant cry for more men. In Chicago, New York and other large cities there are thousands of good, hard working men who could fill this need if they had the chance. The trouble is they haven't the money to get to the field of employment.

NEW CASTLE

The Farewell Reception to Rev. Mr. Ewing

Theatre Party to See "The Thief" at Portsmouth

New Castle, Nov. 2. Monday was a perfectly peerless day, a golden day which marks the New England autumn as the most wondrous season of the year. And now for a period only too short, we have in peculiar fullness the bounty of nature appealing to every sense of enjoyment.

Rev. E. C. Ewing, who has been pastor of the Congregational church for six years, preached his farewell sermon on Sunday, before a large and regretful audience, and held a reception from eight to ten o'clock in Pythian hall on Monday evening, which was largely attended. By artistic members of the parish the hall was transformed into a mammoth and elegant parlor, decorated with palms, ferns, hot house flowers, gorgeous autumn leaves, with a variegation of tints that gave them such a fascinating charm.

Rev. and Mrs. Ewing were assisted in receiving by Miss Myra Hickford and Mrs. John Smith, president of the King's Daughters. After all present had been presented by Miss Florence Annable and Mrs. W. L. Woodward, the guests were entertained by vocal and instrumental music. Deserving special mention were the meritorious rendition of solos by King's "Hushen" by Mrs. K. D. Doberg, after which harlequin ice cream and assorted cake were served, the pleasing commodities being dispensed by Mrs. Charles Prohaska, Miss Marion Tarlton, Mrs. Burt Magson, Mrs. Florence Ratson, Miss Agnes Card, Mrs. Quinton Barker. It was a most social, gratifying success, but permeated with sad thoughts that they were to lose the dear old Shepherd that had tended them so long and unthinkingly. It is the highest possible praise of him to say that he so inspired the parish with the nobility of his mind that he made the entire church—a community of workers at most unequalled. Dignity, generosity, simplicity, efficiency in all good work, modesty and unselfishness are all such strong traits in Rev. E. C. Ewing that no one could know him without gaining some at least of these cardinal virtues just "As one candle lighteth another, nor grows less so nobleness enkindleth nobleness." Rev. and Mrs. Ewing leave today enroute for their home in Danvers, Mass., they carry with them the good will of the townspeople and much regret is felt at losing them and may the perfect rest from their faithful labors occasion a perfect restoration to health is the best wishes of the entire community.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Noyce and little daughter Viola, who have been visiting relatives have returned to their home in Bangor.

Mr. William Gaptill is substituting at the Hampton life saving station. Miss Lena Trefethen is sojourning in Barrington, N. H.

The hoisting of the Queen City whistle was a welcome sound on Monday morning. Captain Gilchrist is a hustler and does not allow trifles to disconcert him.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Meloon have returned from an automobile trip to Haverhill.

Arnold White of Portland, son of Leander White, is to succeed Henry Becker, Jr., as keeper of the Little Harbor breakwater lights.

A theatre party is being arranged to attend "The Thief" at Music Hall on Wednesday evening to see that unique production of the strenuous attempt of a wife's folly to hold a husband's love. All wives will want to see it. The generality of them knowing that the way to a man's heart is through his pocketbook.

SPEAKER CANNON

He Will Ask Congress That He Be Investigated

Danville, Ill., Nov. 2.—One of Speaker Cannon's close friends states that the speaker will demand an investigation by Congress of the charge made by Congressman Parsons of New York that he entered into a deal with Tammany to block certain legislation at Albany in return for its help to perpetuate the existing House rules.

The story sent out from New Orleans that the speaker attended a prize fight in that city Sunday night is untrue. Mr. Cannon left New Orleans Sunday for Danville, because of a telegram.

The Terre Haute (Ind.) Star, which heretofore has supported Mr. Cannon, has come out in an editorial demanding that he be replaced as Speaker by a progressive Republican.

A Danville paper which has always been friendly towards him demands that he be defeated at the next election. It says: "Under the domination of Cannonism there can be neither political nor industrial freedom."

Notable Precedents

Washington, Nov. 2.—If Speaker Cannon demands an investigation of Parsons' charge he will follow several illustrious precedents. After the Adams campaign Speaker Henry Clay was accused by Representative Kromer of Pennsylvania of having dickered with John Quincy Adams on this pledge.

Mr. Clay called a member to the chair and made a speech advocating a committee to investigate the story. The committee was appointed, but it never reported.

On Feb. 27, 1879, Speaker Samuel J. Randall called John G. Carlisle to the chair while he offered a resolution for a committee to investigate his own connection with a government contract. A committee of five exonerated the speaker.

On Dec. 2, 1872, Speaker Blaine asked the House to investigate bribery rumors in connection with the Credit Mobilier and the Union Pacific railroad. A committee recommended the expulsion of two members, but the house merely censured them.

Representative Parsons' seat in the House is in the last row on the Republican side. The corner as signed to it was so small that a swivel chair would not fit it and the doorkeeper gave him a little cane bottom chair.

WANTED A DOLLAR

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 2.—The $1,500 brooch, lost by Mrs. C. R. Train, wife of Lieut. Train of the navy, was recovered Monday; when William Jones, a negro, tried to dispose of it to Detective Robert Miller. Supposing it to be a cheap piece of jewelry, Jones offered to take a dollar for it.

Miller took the negro to Police headquarters, where he declared he had found it in the gutter in front of the Train cottage in Chelsea. Mrs. Train was overjoyed at recovering her brooch. She rewarded Jones and insisted that he be relieved of the charge of undertaking to dispose of the jewel before seeking its owner.

TO SHOOT AIRSHIPS

Army to Conduct Experiments at Sandy Hook

Washington, Nov. 2.—To devise some means of defence against possible aerial invasions, the war department, it was learned today, will experiment on shooting at air craft with cannon on the Sandy Hook proving grounds. Capt. Charles deF. Chandler, one of the two qualified pilots in the army, have left Washington for New York to make arrangements for the balloons to be used in the tests. He will be stationed temporarily at Fort Wood, near New York city.

No tests of this nature have ever been made in America, and as far as is known here, the only experiments of the character have been carried on by gun manufacturers in Germany. The knowledge gained thereby has resulted in the manufacture of balloon cannon.

While the ordnance officers are endeavoring to reduce the effectiveness of an enemy's balloons and aeroplane the signal corps will try to assure aeromats against successful attack from the land. Experiments will shortly be conducted in muffling the motors of the government aeroplane and to communicate by wireless from an aeroplane will also be made.

Germany is reported to have adopted three types of balloon cannon, one mounted on wheels, another on a pedestal and the third on an automobile. The work in Germany is said to have demonstrated that ordinary artillery is ineffective against aeromats; that to shoot balloons successfully a gun must impart a very high velocity to the shot so as to allow as brief an interval as possible for the target to change location.

PARTING BANQUET TO CAPT. WINSLOW

The war department officers of the battleship New Hampshire on Monday evening gave a banquet to Captain Cameron McRae Winslow, U. S. N., the retiring commanding officer of the ship, and Capt. C. C. Rodgers, U. S. N., the new commanding officer. Captain Rogers arrived on Monday and he will relieve Captain Winslow, who will shortly leave for his new duties in New York.

FROM EXETER

District Deputy Saw the Grange

Daughters of American Revolution

Academy Football Team Has Two Disabled

Exeter, Nov. 2.—Exeter chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held its monthly meeting Monday evening. The paper of the evening was "Exeter in the Early Part of the Nineteenth Century, as Remembered by Mrs. Lundie." It was written by Miss Katherine Merrill and read by Mrs. Lona Day. The current D. A. R. events was by Mrs. Dr. Chesley. The hostesses were Miss Jane Harvey, Mrs. Alice Chesley, Miss Josephine Dow, Mrs. Amy G. N. Seleck, Mrs. Kate D. Hatch and Miss Elizabeth Baker.

A pleasant event in the musical circles Monday evening was the concert by Alfred Brinkler of Portland, Me., assisted by the Schubert Mute quartet of that city. The quartet consists of talented musicians, and the selections rendered were enthusiastically received by the large audience, especially those of Frederic H. Kennedy, the second tenor, and Howard R. Stevens, the first basso. Both are of wide reputation, and took part in the Maine musical festival at Portland last week. Mr. Brinkler at the organ also pleased the large audience.

District Deputy of the grange, Edgar J. Ham, of Rochester is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Rogers during his stay here.

The regular meeting of Gilman grange was held on Monday evening when the district deputy, Edgar J. Ham, of Rochester, was present. The fourth degree was worked, and the literary and musical part was interesting, containing an essay by Miss Helen Brown, a reading by Mrs. B. F. Litch, music by May Jenkins and vocal selections by William R. Buckham.

The final week of football practice and the work of putting on the finishing touches by Glaze and Rich, the former Dartmouth stars, was begun on Monday. It seems as if the last week was begun in the face of ill fortune, as there is a possibility that Captain Downing and Pearson may be missing from their positions in the lineup. The former is yet in the infirmary, and not recovering as rapidly as it might be desired, and the latter injured a shoulder in the game Saturday. With these two out of the game Exeter's chances of victory are materially lessened, as the places in the center of the line, and the back field are not easily filled. The showing Saturday was of the most discouraging order, yet it may be accounted for by the long list of hard games the team has played, and the strong wind blowing across the field, then too, the team was without the services of Captain Downing and Kirkpatrick. The entire student body is to march to the field daily this week and rehearse the songs and cheers for the game Saturday. The practice of the early afternoon is to be secret, and later in the day the gates will be open, and the students can see the team at work on the field.

"THE THIEF" AT PORTLAND

Compliments for the Troupe That Is coming Here

Portland, Me., Nov. 2.—The Press this morning publishes the following: "The Thief," a drama in three acts by Henry Bernstein.

The cast, Richard Voysin, Clifford Bruce Marie Louise, his wife, Helene Sullivan Raymond Lagardes, Bigelow Cooper Isabelle, his second wife, Emma Lowry Fernand, his son, Harry L. Franklin Mons, Gondoin (known as Mons, Zambault), John McFarlane Servant, Joseph Allenton. One of the most satisfactory dramatic productions of the present season at the Jefferson was given last evening when Charles Frohman's company presented Henry Bernstein's powerful drama, "The Thief."

While the production was given in Portland a year ago, still a large and fashionable audience attended the performance last evening and at the close, nothing but words of commendation were heard regarding the drama itself and the effective manner in which it was produced by the superb company.

The cast is not a large one including but seven members and but four of these hold the attention of the audience throughout, but the superb acting of this quartet was appreciated and they were obliged to respond to curtain calls.

Patrons of the Jefferson are familiar with the story of the drama owing to its presentation there a year ago.

It hinges on the ambition of a wife, who while loving her husband dearly, is so anxious to maintain the social position, she believes he would like to have her maintain, that she steals money left in the apartments of her husband's partner.

The partner's son falls in love with the woman and she at first encourages him simply as a flirtation, but when she finds he is actually serious, she frankly tells him she loves her husband, is true to him and advises the boy to forget all about her.

When the theft of the money is discovered and the son is accused of it, suspecting who has taken the money, the young man in order to protect the character of the woman he loves, is willing to submit to banishment from the country by his father.

When the wife eventually confesses to her husband that it is she who has stolen the money and has simply done so in order to buy expensive gowns and to help them maintain their social position, the suspicion enters his mind that possibly she may have received attention from his partner's son, but in the intensely dramatic climax to the final act, when the wife confesses her guilt in the presence of his partner, absolves his son from all responsibility and the husband realizes she has always been all that a wife should be to him, he forgives her and the curtain descends on a happy culmination of the difficulties in which all have been involved.

The leading role, that of Richard Voysin, was splendidly assumed by Clifford Bruce, whose work was natural and unaffected and yet when occasion demanded the display of great dramatic force, his portrayal of the part left nothing to be desired.

Marie Louise, his wife, had a role which required unusual dramatic talent, to bring out its full effect and this was splendidly accomplished by Miss Helene Sullivan, who not only had a thorough conception of the role she assumed, but was able to bring out its many strong points superbly. Bigelow Cooper appeared as Raymond Lagardes and gave a fine portrayal of the part, his acting, when he believed his son had robbed him, being of particularly high class.

John McFarlane as Mons, Gondoin, a detective, was particularly good as was also the work of Harry L. Franklin, who appeared as Fernand Lagardes.

The work of Emma Lowry, who assumes the role of Isabelle, the second wife of Raymond Lagardes, was pleasing and satisfactory and she shared in the applause bestowed upon Miss Sullivan.

Joseph Allenton appeared as a servant and while he had little to do he did that little well.

EVENTS OF ELIOT

The First Deer Shot for This Season

No New Cases of Diphtheria at East Eliot

Eliot, Me., Nov. 2. Walter Langley celebrated the opening of the deer hunting season by getting a large buck in the eastern part of the town. Deer are scarce in Eliot this fall and the season's kill will be small. Fifteen were killed in town last fall.

Rev. Edgar T. Pitts went to Boston on Monday for a visit to his two daughters.

George F. Kennard is placing the interior finish in his new house at Kennard's corner.

Ralph Readek is working for Victor P. Jenkins.

Dr. Henry I. Dargin has bought an automobile and received the machine on Monday.

The diphtheria situation at Mr. Rowe's in East Eliot is improving. There are no fatalities and no cases in any other house.

ARMY AND NAVY GAME

Trying to cancel Great Event at Football

Annapolis, Nov. 2.—The message of Supt. Scott of West Point asking that the Army-Navy football game, scheduled for Nov. 27 in Philadelphia, be cancelled, has been referred to the Navy Athletic Association by Capt. Bowyer after a telephonic consultation with officials at Washington.

Although reluctant, the navy people will cancel the game if Col. Scott persists in desiring it, but it will be necessary for the war and navy departments to consent, as they granted permission for the game. The decision will rest with the departments and the Navy Athletic association.

The navy team will carry out the rest of its football schedule and there is little or no chance of the game being abolished at the naval academy. That much was practically decided after the accident to Midshipman Wilson. Wilson's condition is fairly good. A few days hence a consultation will be held to determine whether an operation is necessary.

CUTTER GRESHAM COMING

Boston, Nov. 2.—The revenue cutter Gresham has just returned from New York, where she has been undergoing repairs. During the winter season the Gresham will again patrol the coast from Portsmouth, N. H., to Vineyard Haven and will see to it that no smuggling is done.

At noon yesterday when a launch from the Gresham was making a landing at the foot of State street Seaman Adolph Beer slipped and fell overboard. As he was unable to swim he probably would have lost his life, but for the prompt action of Lieut. P. H. Harrison of the Gresham. Beer had gone down for the second time when Harrison plunged overboard and succeeded in holding the seaman above water until he could be dragged out.

SUPERIOR COURT

Convened After Recess to Find No Business.

Superior court came in from the week's end recess at 2.30 Monday afternoon. Judge Chamberlain found that the case set for trial that afternoon had been settled, and as there was nothing ready the members of the jury were excused until 9.30 this forenoon. No criminal cases were taken up.

In the case of Edwin E. Kent of Londonderry against Alvin W. Sanders of Pittsfield, in which the jury returned a sealed verdict on Friday afternoon, the verdict was opened Monday afternoon and it was for the defendant.

This morning, the court began on the Boston and Portsmouth horse race of Harris v. Cohen which is still on trial before a jury.

The Constitution Circle, Companions of the Forest, closed a very successful two-evenings' sale and dance on Friday evening.

JACK O' LANTERN
HARVEST SUPPER

The Golden Rule Circle of King's Daughters of the Middle street Baptist church scored a great success on Monday evening, when they gave a "Jack O' Lantern" harvest supper, at the chapel on State street. The attendance was the greatest for a long time.

The decorations were especially notable, the masterpiece being two immense pumpkins, both weighing over thirty pounds each, the gift of Mr. George O. Shapleigh of Elliot.
The decorations were witches and black cats in addition to the large number of lanterns which were used very effectively for the table decorations. Black cats and witches were also used profusely about the chapel, while the tables were handsomely set and groined under the bountiful supply of food.

The menu was an old-fashioned harvest supper, and about 150 did ample justice to it.

The menu was:
Corned Beef, Shoulder of Pork, Cabbage, Beets, Carrots, Vegetable Hash, Baked Beans, Chili Sauce, Picadillo.

Indian Pudding with Cream, Pies,
Squash, Apple, Pumpkin, Assorted Cake, Gingerbread, Cheese, Coffee, Rolls,
Fruit.

The entire affair was in charge of Mrs. Bert French, leader of the Circle, with Mrs. C. Manning Akerman assistant, Mrs. I. G. Burnham, secretary, and Mrs. C. J. Wood, treasurer.
The following were the efficient committees in charge of this, most successful affair.

Decorations—Mrs. C. Manning Ak-erman, Mrs. Fred C. Gardner, Mrs.
Mary Morrissey, Miss Mary Sheldon, Miss Carrie Tibbets, Mrs. Fred
Day.

Supper—Mrs. Ella Smith, chairman,

NO DISPUTE OVER
PEARY'S RECORDS

Washington, Nov. 2.—Henry Gan-net of the Geological Survey, chairman of the Committee of the National Geographic society which is studying the Peary polar records, set at rest on Monday any doubts that might exist as to possible friction in the Committee or with Commander Peary over the data submitted by the explorer.

"We have been working together in the utmost harmony," said Mr. Gan-net, "not only among ourselves but with Commander Peary. We desire to meet him that we might sit down with him, with his instruments a-hand, and go through the whole record from the beginning. We did not suggest a place of meeting, but Commander Peary chose to come here.
We are now awaiting a telephone message from him informing us where he would like to meet us."
"Then the Committee has entertained no suspicions regarding the integrity of the records?" was asked. "None whatever," replied Mr. Ganett. "The newspaper interviewers suggesting such a thing are without foundation.
The records and the instruments are of course, closely allied and we desired to examine the original data and the instruments that the investigation might be the most thorough possible."

pupils abroad have greatly exceeded this flight in duration. Lieutenant was made by him after he had made a short practice run at 8.05 o'clock this morning. The first time he went up he remained in the air sixteen absence of nearly a half century he notes many changes that have occurred at the North end. For one of his years Mr. Moran is exceeding-sound memory of things that took place in his boyhood days.

A Scientific Remedy

THAT RELIEVES EVERY FORM OF SKIN TROUBLE

Doctors are often sorely perplexed in determining what to call many of the common diseases of the skin.
One authority says there are at least twenty different forms of eczema alone, and it is a general practice to call it eczema whenever there is a scaly crust upon the skin, accompanied by itching. Just what causes this terribly annoying and stubborn disease would be difficult to say. The truth is that skin diseases generally have been very little understood. For years they were thought to be blood disorders. A short time ago there was discovered a new compound called Cadum, which, when applied externally, effected the most astonishing results in all forms of eczema and other skin troubles of a minor kind. This proved that eczema is not the result of disordered blood, but is a skin disease beyond question. Before the discovery of Cadum other external remedies without number, were used, but proved of value only where the attack was mild and recent. It is less than one year since Cadum was discovered, and in that time cures almost beyond belief have been brought about in not only deep seated cases of eczema, but in all forms of skin troubles as well. If you could have seen some of the horribly disfigured and blotched faces and bodies that Cadum has cleared up and restored to a perfectly healthy condition, you would think the day of miracles had returned, but there is no miracle about Cadum whatever. It is a scientific remedy discovered after long study of skin diseases, and it is most reassuring to be told that it contains no poisonous substances. It is for children and adults, and its remarkable virtues are felt after the first application. The itching stops at once and the healing process is rapid and unmistakable. Cadum is sold by druggists at 10c and 25c a box. It is for pimples, rash, blotches, blackheads, chafings, rough, scaly skin, ringworm, herpes, acne, and other troubles of that kind.

MARINE CORPS NEEDS NEW RIFLES

Rear Admiral N. B. Mason, chief of the Naval Bureau of Ordnance, again will seek to have congress appropriate money to replace the present rifles used in the navy and Marine Corps with the Springfield rifle, such as are used in the army and militia. The navy and Marine Corps are still equipped with the magazine rifles, model 1903.
These two types of small arms require different styles of ammunition, and in view of joint expeditions it is considered important that the small arms be uniform.

CHANGES AT WASHINGTON

Washington, Nov. 2.—Important changes in office and in the administration work of the treasury and the department of commerce and labor took place today. Two acting secretaries leave office, one for private life and the other for official duties.

Lee McClung, Yale's famous halfback of '91, made the longest run of his career at 9 a. m., and when he reached the goal he made a $1,175,000,000 touchdown.

He became treasurer of the United States at that hour, receiving the big wad of money from Charles H.
Treat, retiring treasurer. Thirty clerks have been at work since the close of business Saturday afternoon, counting the tons of money, and securities which the old Yale captain will guard.

With the departure of Ormsby Mc-Harg, assistant secretary of commerce and labor, for New York solicitor Earl of that department becomes acting secretary. Mr. McHarg has been acting secretary most of the past few months in the absence of Sec. Nagel. He will assume new duties as member of the firm of Noble, Jackson & Hubbard in New York city.

It is understood Sec. Nagel favors, as Mr. McHarg's successor, a man from the middle west. Mr. Nagel, who is expected here Nov. 7, has conferred with the President and will make the announcement shortly.

The tariff board appointed by the President as an advisory body with respect practically to the maximum and minimum features of the new law begins its work in earnest today, although the members of the board have held several preliminary meetings.

James Burton Reynolds' retirement as assistant secretary of the treasury becomes effective today. His successor probably will be announced shortly after the return of Sec. Mac-Vongh next Thursday from his summer home at Dublin, N. H. Mr.
Reynolds is on the new tariff board.

In the four years and three months he held the office of U. S. treasurer, Charles H. Treat has managed to do away with a great amount of duplication in administration, and has instituted reforms. During the formative period of the Payne tariff bill, he was called upon for expert advice by members of both houses of congress. His reward came in the shape of a bill increasing his salary from $6000 to $8000 a year. He also was active in advising the members of the monetary commission.

Prof. A. Pratt Andrew, who recently returned from Europe with chairman Aldrich of the senate finance committee and the monetary commission, of which Mr. Andrew is an expert attache, will take the oath of office as director of the mint today.

ASTOR DIVORCE PROCEEDINGS

New York, Nov. 2.—The testimony taken by referee Charles H. Young in the divorce proceedings brought by Mrs. John Jacob Astor against Col. Astor will be filed in the office of the court of Dutchess county this week. All the testimony is in and is now in the course of preparation for incorporation in the referee's report. Mrs. Astor filed her suit in Dutchess county because the Astor country home is in Rhinebeck, a short distance from Poughkeepsie. Dutchess county is in the 9th judicial district, which also takes in Westchester and Rockland counties. Justice Mills, who signed the order appointing a referee, will open court in Rockland county next Monday, and the report of referee Young will be handed to him during next week.

DERELICT THERESA WOLF

Famous Old Ship is to be Repaired at Portland

Portland, Me., Nov. 2.—The derelict schooner Theresa Wolf, which was deserted at sea and later towed into Portland Harbor by the revenue cutter Woodbury, has been placed on the market by Thomas Towle, who announces that a thorough examination has been concluded by the surveyors and it is their opinion that the hull is in good condition and that it is worth refitting.

It was thought at one time that the old vessel was a total wreck as she had been battered by the seas until the men on board were forced to desert her. The strain which she underwent while being towed here by the cutter did not affect her to any great extent as the old timbers used in her construction proved to be very strong.

The hull has been beached on the flats near the old dry dock on the South Portland side and many have visited it. The story created considerable interest among sea-faring men.

BODY FOUND ON TRACK AT EXETER

The body of an unknown man was found on the track of the Western division of the Boston & Maine railroad near the Exeter depot late last night, and it was evident that he had either been struck or had fallen from a train.

Medical Referee A. J. Lance was called and he gave permission to remove the body and said he would view it and the scene this morning.

considerable interest has been aroused by the publication from the University of Lyons of the results of a long series of investigations, with regard to animals mummified and painted by ancient Egyptians. Among the mals identified is the well known fish oryx, now to be found only in Sudan, although in the time of the Pharaohs it seems to have been quite common in the delta.

According to the Hospital, London, the English physicians are ordering patients to eat oysters, that have been salted in sea water as a cure for beriberi and tuberculosis. The good effects of the sea water, which is too little, when taken alone, is increased the albumen, fat, hydrocarbons and mineral salts, especially phosphates, contained in the oyster. The oyster is

When There's Work There Are Men to Do It

The labor board and the several departments in issuing calls for workmen since Oct. 1 are decidedly pleased in the response made by the men. Not for years has there been such good returns come from the same at this station and demonstrates plainly that when there is plenty of work plenty of men can be found to do it.

Comdr. Hoff Bids His Friends Goodby

Commander A. B. Hoff completed his duties at this station today and was relieved by his successor, Lieut. Comdr. J. F. Hubbard. Comdr. CALL A HALT

On Rowdiness in the City of Portsmouth

No one wants to interfere with the boys having their fun, but when they remove blinds from second story windows in the business section, it is time they receive a call from the police.

Considerable damage was done in the business section on Monday night by these boys.
There is growing tendency to allow rowdiness to increase in this city and the hoodlum element insult and annoy ladies and gentlemen from one end of the city to the other.
Isn't it about time to call a halt?

GONE TO HER REWARD

Mrs. Julia Lynch Dies at Her Home on Atkinson Street

Another of the old Irish residents of this city, Mrs. Julia Lynch, widow of the late Daniel Lynch, passed away today at her home on Atkinson street after nearly three years' illness. Deceased was a native of Bantry, Ireland, and came to this country when a very young girl. For some years she lived in Manchester and came to this city directly after her marriage and has resided in the house, where she died for over forty years. No woman of her race was better known here and her life was good and devoted in every way. She was a woman who made her home what it should be and her kind acts and deeds will long be remembered, especially by her friends and neighbors. She was the last of her family. Her sister Mrs. Kate Crowley, died at Manchester last week. A niece, Miss Annie Lynch of this city, survives.

THE LOOKOUT CLUB

Annual Gathering at New Castle—Lots of Sport and Good Feed

The Lookout Club is reported to have made a record at its annual outing held at New Castle on Sunday last. The hall-room boys were the principal entertainers on the occasion and pleased the gathering with their funny sketch entitled "The Straw Hat."

Police Officer Hanson of Lynn, one of the out of town guests, addressed the club and he scored a hit when he told how to train police dogs. Oliver Marvin, a pioneer member of the outfit, did his usual duty as emcee and the spread was a "crema."
Mr. Tibbets of Lynn, another enterprising non resident member, talked on Massachusetts politics and gave many pointers to his audience, except the chief who knows the game from a to z.

BRIGHTMAN—PIKE

Quiet Wedding This Forenoon at the North Church Paraphage

Harrison Foster Brightman, formerly of Fall River, Mass., and Miss Marion L. Pike, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Pike of Hawthorn street, were married in the Congregational parsonage at ten o'clock this forenoon by Rev. Dr. Lucius H. Thayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Brightman took the train for the east for a wedding tour. The groom is a popular drug clerk of Grace's store. The bride is a likeable young woman and many friends wish her joy.

BURGLARY

Thieves Entered Meat and Fish Store of J. O. Downs

The fish and meat store of John O. Downs on Market street received a call from the crook fraternity on Sunday night making the fourth place where they have called within a short time. This break was made from the rear of the shop where the burglar entered by breaking a screen door and was evidently after money.

In the office of the shop the desk was ransacked and every drawer pulled open and the papers pulled all over the store. A lot of old bank checks were strewn all the way to the back entrance which showed that the robber thought he had something of value.

Not a thing was found missing of any value and the job was not worth the time and chances which the crook took.

KANGAROO ON A HIKE

Has Left His Bed and Board on the Wisconsin

The kangaroo of the U. S. S. Wisconsin is on the move again and has left his bed and board on the gun deck of the vessel.

He jumped ship for the second time, on Saturday last, and headed for the woods of Eliot.

On Sunday a squad was out scouring the surrounding country but their chase availed nothing.

It appears that the kangaroo is not going to be behind in hiking and he feels that if the crew can go off on these marches he is entitled to do his own little bit on land.

However, it makes no difference what kind of a stunt this Australian pet carries out, he is hunted up and welcomed back to his camp on the ship.

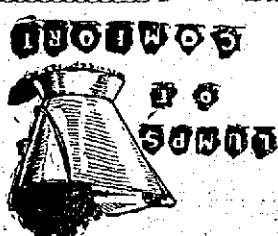

He has become well acquainted with this section of the country since the ship's first visit, and what he wants is liberty while the big ship is in port.

THE FOG WAS VERY THICK

Fog came in this forenoon at nine o'clock and was so thick on the river while it lasted that river boats found it impossible to see anything fifty feet ahead, and were compelled to move slowly.

The Autopiano for United States Flagship

Permit me to express my endorsement of the wonderful Autopiano purchased from you some time ago. The tone and durability are most commendable. The interior player is almost human in its touch, and very stately to operate, and enables any of the men who are unable to play manually, to render the most difficult compositions in an artistic manner. I cannot speak too highly of the really wonderful and artistic AUTOPIANO, and to my mind it far surpasses any other similar instrument.

Our Idea in Advertising

Is not so much to sell a Suit or Overcoat as it is to get a customer. There is a big difference between selling a man a suit and getting him for a regular customer.

But our object is to sell a man such a good suit the first time that he comes back for another one next season, and keeps coming back until he gets the habit of coming,—a habit that he finds too good to break.

There are many things about our Suits and Overcoats that we could tell you, but long years of experience tells us, that a satisfied customer is one of the best advertisements a Tailor can have.

Let us make you a Suit or Overcoat this season.
